Reproduction and Use

Northern BC Archives & Special Collections (NBCA) will provide paper or digital reproductions of archival material from its collection as long as the reproductions are used for research or private study purposes. Users can only obtain reproductions of documents that are not subject to preservation restrictions, donor restrictions or privacy restrictions.

Should the User wish to use the Reproductions for a purpose other than research or private study, permission from the copyright owner may be required. It is the User's responsibility to determine whether or not the material is protected by copyright, and if the use of the Material constitutes an infringement of copyright under the Canadian Copyright Act. If it does, written permission from the copyright owner(s) must be obtained. When the NBCA is not the copyright owner, we will provide the name of the copyright owner(s) if it is readily available.

Reproductions are provided for one-time use only. It is strictly prohibited to reproduce, resell or lend the reproduction, or to deposit it with another individual or repository. Any modification, translation or reformatting that alters the meaning or context of the material or compromises its authenticity is also strictly prohibited.

Indemnity

The User identified below agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the University of Northern British Columbia, its Board of Governors, officers, employees, agents, students and volunteers for all claims and damages (including all legal fees and disbursements and other professional fees), howsoever arising, directly or indirectly, under this Agreement.

I have read and agree to the above conditions and understand that failure to comply with these guidelines may result in the denial of future requests for reproductions.
